

Miles Street, Kirra

Alterations and Additions

A project like this one only ever comes into reality with an open minded Client. Anne Maree and Steve come to us with a well developed design brief. This house is a "beach house" which needed to accommodate multiple families on any given weekend, and have storage for the beach gear.

This property is a short walking distance of Kirra beach, but faces due West and is bounded to the North by a apartment building. But to the South is a park - so we developed a concept which addressed all of these issues, and addressed the Clients needs.

We created a open planned space at ground floor and a large roof terrace - which can act as a "sleep out" space. To give privacy, but not to lose the Northern light, we used translucent polycarbonate walls to the roof terrace.
